Our Company

THOMSON PERRETT is one of the world's premier golf course design companies with an enviable track record of over 250 successful projects around the globe. Based in Melbourne, Australia, the company has now expanded, with the establishment of Thomson Perrett and Lobb in London, to service Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

The strength of the firm comes from the principals who make up the core of this remarkable team: Peter Thomson, AO, CBE, Asia Pacific's finest ever golfer, five times British Open winner with more than 40 years experience in golf design; and Ross Perrett, Planner, Architect, Landscape Architect and Golf Course Designer with over 25 years experience in some of the world's toughest golfing landscapes.

Together they represent the perfect combination to deliver the world's best golfing experiences, whatever the location. From China to the UK, New Zealand and Australia to Indonesia, India, Thailand, Malaysia, Japan and Hong Kong, Thomson Perrett has established a reputation for high quality private, resort and integrated residential and golf developments. Whether it's a rice paddy or a barren desert, a world heritage listed marine park or even a volcano – Thomson Perrett has solved the challenges and delivered on the promise.

A critical factor in the group's international success has been the employment of experienced in-house professionals in all aspects of golf course design and planning, enabling the company to deliver a seamless and trouble-free experience to developers, and ensuring that projects are kept firmly on schedule and on budget wherever they may be.

At Thomson Perrett, a key principle is respect. Respect both for the origins and traditions of this great game, and also for the culture, the land and the context within which the course is to be built. Courses must be golfer friendly, and sustainable in both economic and environmental terms, a success for the developer and for the golfing community. The team is proud of the courses it creates and maintains an ongoing commitment of ensuring they remain world class.

The world of golf is changing. The focus has moved from Europe and the United States to the rapid development now taking place in the Asia Pacific region. This is the region where Thomson Perrett has been operating for over forty years. The region where we have the experience and the know-how to make successful golf projects. The place that we know best.

Thomson Perrett – your design partner in Asia Pacific

Peter Thomson

AO CBE
Chairman

Five times British Open Champion and winner of over 100 tournaments worldwide,
Peter is one of the greatest golfers ever to play the tours of Asia Pacific.

His personal commitment to playing in the region is widely regarded as one of the key factors in driving the game's popularity. For over forty years, he has been bringing his love for the game and his fine golfer's brain to the challenge of designing some of the world's best new courses. In seeing the site from the eyes of one of golf's finest practitioners, Peter is able to fashion courses that provide both challenge and reward to the golfer, whether it be in the placement of a fairway bunker or the subtle tiering of an apparently level green.

Peter's career has spanned most aspects of the world of golf, from his renowned playing career to his position as a highly respected television commentator and coach to writing books, magazine articles and newspaper columns for major outlets around the globe. Peter was also President of the Australian PGA for 32 years. His continued commitment to the game through his design work with Thomson Perrett has been instrumental in delivering great pleasure and satisfaction to the generations of golfers who have enjoyed following in his illustrious footsteps.

Ross Perrett

B.Arch, M.L Arch, Dip RTM, RAIA, AAILA, SAGCA
Managing Director and Head Designer

With over 25 years experience in golf course design and qualifications in Architecture, Landscape Architecture and Turf Management, Ross is one of the world's most highly qualified golf course architects.

He brings to Thomson Perrett an understanding of the wider context of golf course design, including resort planning, integrated residential development and landscape design.

One of his key interests is in the increasingly important area of environmental responsibility, striving to create courses that are sustainable, sensitive to their setting and require less maintenance. His expertise on these issues is often sought by conference and seminar organisers, and he has given a number of presentations around the world to help raise awareness in the golfing community.

Ross is a member and past president of the Society of Australian Golf Course Architects, and is widely regarded as one of the industry's innovators, leading the adoption of both new technologies and landscape design concepts throughout the region and beyond.

“..one of the world's most qualified
golf course architects.”

Hamilton Island Golf Club is situated in a world heritage marine park and is one of Australia's most spectacular courses. The project required strict adherence to more than 25 environmental management plans.
